Selective Service Officials Honored

Members of Arlington's two Draft Boards were among the 1186 unpaid members of Massachusetts' 173 boards who were awarded the Selective Service Medal and Certificate of Merit Monday evening. The presentation which climaxed a testimonial dinner at Robbins Town Hall was part of a nationwide ceremony highlighting the observance of Selective Service Day. Also honored were examining physicians, medical advisory board members, reemployment committeemen and others who had given their service in connection with the administration of the Selective Service law.

F2c R. J. Reardon Killed in Action

F2c Robert J. Reardon, 20, reported missing in 1943, is officially reported killed in action. His mother, Mrs. Mildred Igoe of 112 Palmer st., was advised this week by the Navy Department.

Reardon, who attended Arlington High School, was on a submarine in the Pacific. He entered the service in September, 1942. Besides his mother, he leaves a brother, William, in the Navy, stationed at Pearl Harbor, and three sisters, Dina, Mildred and Jacqueline, all of Arlington.

Representative Hallam T. Ring, who acted as toastmaster, told the audience, "We have come together to honor a group of citizens who have given much of their time and effort to a very patriotic duty. As stated by Arthur Stratton in the Boston Herald, the Draft Board members 'were the most maligned and abused men in the community for five long years, but they delivered 526,268 fighting men of Massachusetts to the armed forces of this country, and came within one percent of doing the best job of all the states.'"

"It is not without recognition," Mr. Ring continued, "that we realize there were many others who See DRAFT BOARDS (Continued on Page Two)

Opposition Seen For 3 Members of School Board

Although a rush of candidates for major town offices appears unlikely before the deadline for filing nomination papers arrives at 5 o'clock next Monday afternoon, the coming town elections took on added interest this week when it became known that at least two places on the School Committee will be contested.

Nomination papers have been taken out for Merwin F. Ashley of 4 Monadnock road and Dorothy C. Plinkham of 4 West st., both of them well-known, it was learned at the office of Town Clerk Earl A. Ryder. They will oppose Mrs. Therese N. Turner, Joseph Bevins and Clement Beaudet, veteran members of the School Board, who are seeking re-election.

Ralph Stevens, member of the Cemetery Commission, will seek re-election, it was also learned. While Harold Cahalan is the first candidate to take out nomination papers for the Board of Selectmen, rumors persist that at least one other candidate will file papers for this office before next Monday afternoon's deadline. No other contests have been reported although some candidates may be waiting to file their papers at the 11th hour.

Square Named After Brothers Killed in War

Taking favorable action on a petition presented only a few hours before its regular meeting, the joint-board of Selectmen and Public Works, Tuesday night voted to designate a square at Arlington Heights as "Downing Square" in honor of M-Sgt. Cornelius J. Downing and Capt. James F. Downing, sons of Mrs. Mary Downing of 9 Blossom st., who gave their lives while serving their country in World War II.

The square occupies the area where Lowell st., Park Avenue ext., Bow st., and Westminster ave., enter or intersect. The Downing brothers were members of one of only two families in Arlington who lost two sons in the service in World War II. Consequently, the petition of residents in this neighborhood that a square be named after these two brothers was readily granted.

Father Burned in Saving Son

Charles Casazza, 45, of 15 Amherst st., was painfully burned while carrying his three-months old son, and two firemen were slightly injured when a two-alarm fire gutted the interior of the two-family house at that address early Wednesday morning. The fire, causing damage estimated at $8000, was the second serious blaze in Arlington this week.

The first alarm was sounded at 4:42 a.m., and when the second alarm was sounded, 11 minutes later, the police ambulance was See FATHER (Continued on Page Two)

Heavy Damage to Food Store

Fire believed to have started from defective electric wiring caused heavy damage to the A & P super-market at 689 Massachusetts ave., in the heart of the business district, and gave firemen more than an hour's battle in Monday morning's snowstorm.

The fire was discovered shortly after 5 a.m., and Patrolman Timothy Hourihan sounded an alarm from Box 51, at the corner of Massachusetts ave., and Pleasant st. Feeding on showcases and packing cases at the front of the store, where the fire broke out, the flames See FIRE (Continued on Page Two)

Draft Boards

gave Selectees a proper sendoff during the long years of war. These patriotic citizens included the clergymen of Arlington and the members of the Board of Selectmen who attended each sendoff and gave the servicemen a word of cheer: the American Legion and the V.F.W., and the Salvation Army. Dr. Ernest R. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield and many others.

Mr. Ring then introduced the chairmen who served and executive secretaries of the Draft Boards, and two Arlington clergymen who served as chaplains in the recent war. The first, Rev. David G. Colwell, in paying tribute to the Selective Service members, said, "They also serve who only stand and wait. We are gathered here to give testimony to devoted service."

"Heroism in time of crisis is a great thing but history will record the direction of events will be determined during the time of our mediocrity."

"It remains for us to show the boys that there is yet a great job to be done and if we do this the course of our town and our nation will be better," he concluded.

The second former chaplain, Rev. Justin Durocher stressed the need for high ideals if lasting peace is to be enjoyed. He said in part: "The pen is mightier than the sword. We have given the sword a chance and it has failed. It is our job as citizens to see that the men whom we put in responsible places are men of character, men who are not interested in private and selfish aims."

Appeals for faith in God and then in his creatures, Fr. Durocher gave a graphic picture of his visit to the leper colony on the Hawaiian island of Molokai where a burning faith in God made life bearable for lepers. "If the minds and hearts of men were imbued with love and they had no room in their hearts for hate, they would renew the world," he concluded.

Roscoe O. Elliott, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, then awarded the bronze Selective Service medal. In making the presentation, he said, "There are many who no doubt should be honored. However, the Draft Board men were dealing with humanity. These men were chosen because of their integrity and because they knew their community."

The recipients were: Mrs. John A. Bishop for the late John A. Bishop, John G. Brackett, Hugh A. Carney, Walter T. Chanterlain, Maurice L. Hatch, Gardner C. Porter, Horace G. Taylor, Arthur O. Yeames, Harold A. Cahalin, Clifford W. Cook, Harrie H. Darnum, George E. Minot, Frank G. Volpe and Albert W. Wunderly. Messrs. Carney and Volpe served as appeal agents.

Seated at the head table, which had been attractively decorated with flowers by Nils Anderson, were Judge John G. Brackett, Atty. Albert W. Wunderly, Maurice L. Hatch of the Draft Boards, Messrs. Arthur F. McGarry and William A. Forbes, clerks of the boards; Selectmen Elliott and Joseph Peterson, Rev. Fr. Durocher, Rev. Mr. Colwell and Representative Ring.

Other invited guests included Selectmen William C. Adams, Tim-

New Advisory Board Named

Following up the action of the recent special town meeting which accepted the legislative Act authorizing the establishment and maintenance of a municipal department devoted to veterans' services, the Board of Selectmen Monday morning appointed a new Advisory Committee to replace the committee originally appointed by former Governor Leverett Saltonstall.

Members of the new committee and the group each represents are: Dr. Volia Hall, registered physician; Lawrence P. Bliss, industrialist; Albert H. Perkins, business man; William J. Doyle, State president of the American Federation of Labor, organized labor; Rev. John Nicol Mark, clergymen; Nora A. Brown, superintendent of hospitals; Clifford R. Hall, superintendent of schools; Norcross M. Stratton, vocational education director; Ellen B. Fitzpatrick, guidance director; J. Philip Bower, public health; Atty. Francis Keefe, legal profession; Mrs. R. W. Murphy, WAVES and WACS, Walter T. Chamberlain, housing; and Ernest W. Davis, general representative.

Fire

enveloped the store-front in short order. So intense was the heat that it cracked large plate glass windows and sent two of them crashing to the sidewalk before firemen arrived.

When fire apparatus rolled up to the store, flames were shooting out of the display windows and were reaching the second story. Firemen working under the direction of Deputy Chief George W. Corbett, laid several hose lines across the avenue, but because of the early morning hour, neither Boston Elevated street-car nor automobile traffic was hampered.

The fact that the fire was concentrated around a small office and cashiers' counters at the front entrance gave firemen little trouble and saved adjoining stores from the flames. However, heavy smoke filled the market and reached several offices on the second floor. The occupants, Drs. Ernest M. Fisher, Dr. Donovan, Dr. Ernest R. Brooks and William R. Purrier of the Edith Hine Beauty Salon, as well as the owners of the Foster and Evans Gift Shop, on the street floor, were all notified by the police.

Town Engineer James M. Keane was among the few spectators present and Police Sgts. Meagher and Toomey, with patrolmen Hourihan, James Ryan and Cook, who were assigned to the fire, had little work handling traffic.

Companies at the fire were Engines 1 and 4, Ladder 1 and the Special Service truck from the nearby Central Fire Station and Engine 2 from the Highland Station. Only one alarm was sounded. The basement suffered considerable water damage while the walls and ceilings of the market were blackened by smoke. The A&P Company sent out repair crews, including electricians and painters within a few hours after recall had been sounded, at 6:38 a. m., and the task of cleaning out and redecorating the market got under way immediately. As soon as this is completed, an entire new stock of merchandise and new display cases, some of them to replace those installed in the bakery department that was opened only recently, will be moved in. The market will be reopened this morning.

Meanwhile, extra meat and groceries were shipped to the A&P markets at 192 Massachusetts ave., East Arlington and 1308 Massachusetts ave., Arlington Heights, to take care of the needs of A&P customers while the Centre market remained closed.

A. H. S. Tips Rindge to Tie Loop Lead

In a sizzling game that was termed by league president Henry Lynch as "the best in 20 years", Arlington High's hockey sextet tipped over the league-leading Rindge Tech team, 3 to 2, at the Boston Garden Saturday afternoon to put the Spy Ponders in a tie for top position in the Greater Boston Interscholastic League.

Don Sennott and Bill Coveney were the stars in the sensational battle. Coveney scoring on a solo and setting up two more for his teammate in a game that was fast and furious.

Rindge was weakened by the absence of Ed Mailloux, who suffered a fractured skull in the Melrose game the previous week. Without Mailloux on defense, the Cambridge aggregation did not function as smoothly.

Rindge was first to score at 3:13 when Len Gagnon took a pass from Pete Messuri and scored from the left of the sage. Arlington tied it up at 6:18 when Coveney crashed the Cambridge defense and left a loose puck for Sennott to grab and send crashing into the strings.

Arlington took the lead in the second period when Bill Coveney again hit the Rindge defense, veered to the left, and shot the disk like a bullet into the net. The Cambridge defensemen just couldn't check the bulky Spy Ponder. Rindge tied it up, 2 to 2, early in the last stanza, however, when Dick Briand went around the Arlington net and passed the puck to Gagnon who scored at the 39-second mark. The tie was short-lived, when less than three minutes later, Sennott took Coveney's rebound from directly in front of the Rindge net and scored. With the score at 3 to 2 in favor of the Downes men, Rindge's forwards tried valiantly for another tally but their efforts were fruitless.

The victory was Arlington's fifth in six starts this season. ARLINGTON: G. Wells; rd, Taylor; id, Fitter, C. Coveney; rw, McCutcheon; lw, Sennott. RINDGE: G. Picard; rd, Messuri; id, Rooney; c, Gagnon; rw, Briand; lw, Robichaud. Arlington alternates—Walsh, Doherty, Donahue. Rindge alternates—Glennon, Rochon, Moran.

First period goals—Rindge, Gagnon (Messuri), 3:13. Arlington, Sennott (Coveney), 6:18. Penalty—Rooney, check in center zone. Second period goal—Arlington Coveney, 4:47. Penalty—Sennott, holding. Third period goals—Rindge, Gagnon (Briand), 0:39; Arlington, Sennott (Coveney), 3:11. Penalties—Taylor, trip; Taylor, trip.

More Snow, Sleet Hit Arlington

Arlington Public Work Department crews, already given a real workout in previous storms this winter, tackled another one Monday morning when snow, which had started to fall at 2:30 Sunday afternoon, accumulated to several inches.

Rain and sleet, following in the wake of the storm, gave the men extra trouble as highways were turned into sheets of ice. Sand crews followed snowplows especially in hilly sections of the town. The wet snow, which froze after being pushed aside by snowplows, proved an added problem to snow removal crews working with snow loaders in the business section later this week.

The storm, followed Sunday's bitter cold when the lowest temperatures in 44 years were recorded for Jan. 20.

Two Hurt As Car Crashes Beacon

Two persons were injured early Sunday morning when the car in which they were riding crashed into a safety island beacon in front of 210 Massachusetts ave.

The police ambulance and fire apparatus were summoned to the scene. Taken to the Symmes Hospital were O. G. Bloomquist of 5 Park road, Belmont, operator of the car; and Gunnar Sundquist of 99 Webster st. The auto was towed to a garage.

Father

sent to the scene. Casazza, whose pajamas caught fire as he rescued his sleeping son, Charles, Jr., was removed to the hospital where he was treated for burns about the head, neck and hands. His condition is not serious.

Also injured while fighting the blaze were Fireman Henry Scanlon, who suffered injuries to his back while operating the aerial ladder, and Fireman Frank Coscia who injured his right foot and was treated at the Symmes Hospital.

Breaking out in the basement of the two-apartment dwelling, the fire was discovered by Casazza who smelled the smoke. He aroused his family, who occupied the first floor, and then ran upstairs where he awakened his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Casazza.

When a frozen hydrant handicapped firefighters, a second alarm was sounded. Apparatus from Somerville, Medford, Belmont, Cambridge and Lexington responded at the scene and "covered in" at local fire stations under the mutual aid system.

Driven out in the street in night attire, the two Casazza families were given shelter by neighbors. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Later in the forenoon, an alarm was sounded for a defective oil burner in the house owned and occupied by Paul H. Shea at 189 Newport st. Smoke damage resulted. Another alarm was also sounded Wednesday forenoon when fire broke out in rags in the cellar at 6 Whittemore st. The house is occupied by Joseph Preston. No damage was reported.

Missionary Society Has Memorial Service

A memorial service for 11 missionaries who lost their lives in the Philippines was held at the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church on Monday. Mrs. Nathan W. Wood presided. A table holding 11 candles was on the platform and as Mrs. L. Curtis Foye read their names, a candle was lighted by a member of the society. Mrs. Foye's Sunday school class sang a hymn accompanied by Miss Doris Webster.

Dr. Arthur Boggs of India gave a very interesting talk on his work there. The meeting closed with the benediction by the pastor, Rev. Nathan W. Wood.

The program and tea were in charge of the Arlington Heights group.

John Starr Given Party

John Starr Craig was tendered a seventh birthday party by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Craig of 7 Thorndike Street, on Wednesday afternoon.

Sixteen children were present, along with grown-ups, and friends. John Starr signed up to work on the home front, when war was declared on Pearl Harbor and has sold over a million dollars worth of war bonds.

This youngster has entertained veterans in hospitals in Massachusetts, giving all his day Sunday and evenings during the week.

Hadassah Meets

The January meeting of the Arlington Chapter of Hadassah was devoted to Youth Aliyah, under the chairmanship of Mrs. M. Gerber. A motion picture narrated by Paul Muni was shown, and was a moving appeal and appropriate prelude to Mrs. Gerber's plea for contributions. Over 95% of the members pledged their support to help some child get a new and normal start in life in Palestine.

Miss Shirley Cohen entertained with selections on the trumpet. Mrs. Dessillier accompanied her on the piano. Refreshments were served.

BRIG. GEN. COLLIER PRESENTED NATION'S THIRD HIGHEST AWARD

Brig. Gen. William A. Collier, Chief of Staff of the 8th Service Command, was presented the nation's third highest military award, the Distinguished Service Medal, last week for meritorious service with combat units which spearheaded the Third Army drive across Europe.

Gen. Collier received the decoration from Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commanding the Eighth Service Command, in a ceremony at Dallas, Tex.

The honored Army officer, who already holds numerous decorations, is the husband of Gladys A. Collier of 18 Wellington st. They have a son, Capt. William H. Collier who has been stationed in the European theatre.

During training in this country and through the European campaign, Gen. Collier was Chief of Staff of the XX Corps, then commanded by Gen. Walker. Both left the XX Corps and came to the 8th Service Command last June.

Gen. Collier was cited for services in training the IV Armored Corps, later the XX, "Ghost Corps," for creating close relationships between British and American Forces and for leadership in combat.

His citation read: "Brig. Gen. William A. Collier rendered exceptionally meritorious service in positions of great responsibility from September, 1942, to February, 1944, and from November, 1944, to May, 1945. As Chief of Staff, IV Armored Corps, he contributed in a marked degree to the successful operation of the Desert Training Center; then, as Chief of Staff, XX Corps, he maintained his outstanding service in training component units at Camp Campbell, Kentucky, and during the Tennessee maneuvers.

"On the arrival of the corps in England, he created a closely integrated relationship between the commanders. Later, during operations on the Continent, his keen judgment, devotion to his task and expert assistance to his commander were of great value in the advance from Metz to the Saar River, the battle in the Ardennes, the reduction of Saarburg and the expulsion of the enemy from the Saar-Moselle triangle. During the crossing of the Rhine, the capture of Kassel, the drive eastward to the Mulde River and the final thrust into Austria, his neverfailing guidance was a bulwark to all echelons of the command.

"Gen. Collier's unusual foresight, inexhaustible energy, leadership and complete grasp of the situation contributed greatly to the success of the XX Corps."

Veteran of Two Wars

A veteran of service in two wars, General Collier saw duty as an infantry officer during World War I along the Marne, at St. Mihiel and in the Meuse-Argonne offensive. He was graduated from Infantry School courses in 1925 and 1929, and then went to China, where he remained until 1933. A graduate of the Command and General Staff School, in 1935, and the Army War College, in 1937, Gen. Collier has also served as a member of the Infantry Board and as G-1, First Corps Area.

After service as Chief of Staff of the 78th Infantry Division, General Collier was assigned to the same duty with the IV Armored Corps.

In addition to the Distinguished Service Medal, General Collier holds the Legion of Merit; Silver Star for gallantry in action; Bronze Star with two Oak Leaf Clusters; French Legion of Honor; Croix de Guerre with Palmes; Croix de Guerre with Bronze Star; Medal of Metz; the French Fourragere; the Russian Orders of the Fatherland, 1st and 2nd Class; the British Distinguished Service Order; the Luxembourg Grand Ducal Order of the Oak Leaf of the Crown, Officers Class, and the Luxembourg Croix de Guerre. He also was recently appointed an honorary sergeant of the Demi Brigade of Chasseurs Alpine, by the French.

Arcadians Going Places Despite Lack of Home Rink

Handicapped by the lack of home rink for practice drill and on-ice play, the Arcadians Hockey Club nevertheless has climbed to a first-place tie in the Old Colonial Hockey League.

Organized three years ago, the Arlington skaters this season have a record of seven wins and two losses.

Practice sessions for the locals are held on the Reservoir ice, whenever it is cleared of snow, and its games are played in Hingham. Officers of the club have conferred with the Park Commissioners in an effort to have a floodlight rink in Fenway park, off Chestnut st., or in back of the Arlington High School, adjacent to the Warren A. Pierce stadium. As another suggestion, the boys contend that surplus demountable buildings, suitable for a rink, are being offered by the Navy Department at $3,000 each, and that the Town might well consider purchasing one of these buildings. If such a rink were set up in Arlington, the Arcadians point out that it could be made available to the scores who enjoy skating.

Officers of the Arcadians are: Charles Donahue, president; William Flanders, vice-president; Richard Hardin, treasurer; and William Leary, secretary.

Harrington Heads Community Club

The annual meeting of the Community Club was held last week. The members enjoyed dinner at Martin's, then proceeded to Eiertson's for the meeting and recreation. The newly elected officers are: Charles D. Harrington, president; Frank Lane, vice-president; Richard W. Baker, secretary and Earl Ryder, treasurer.

The retiring president, Andrew A. Magnus, thanked the members for their generous support the past two years and offered his hearty congratulations to the new officers.

—Andrew A. Magnus, John M. Monroe, Adler M. Hanson, Russell T. Hamlet, Hallam T. Ring, Christian J. Berglund and Everett J. Henderson have completed degrees in the Boston Commandery, Knights Templars.

Working on the coldest Jan. 20 in 44 years, Victory Clothing Collection volunteers last Sunday gathered enough used clothing from Arlington homes to fill a large freight car to overflowing.

A fleet of 16 trucks, including some donated by the board of Public Works, was kept moving throughout the afternoon, covering practically every street in the town. Working on these trucks were Kiwanians and Rotarians as well as Boy Scouts.

At the Water st. siding, members of the Lions Club, in charge of "Gov." Desmond, transferred the clothing from the trucks to the freight car. Bill Dee of the Lions, and Harry Fox of the Kiwanis, Club assisted Lion Desmond in supervising the loading in the bitter cold. By nightfall, the car had been filled to its capacity, with still more clothing to be shipped out of Arlington later.

An unfortunate accident marked the collection, however, when one of the Boy Scouts fell off a truck while it was turning into Highland ave. from Gray st., according to police.

The victim, John D. Rousakis, 12, of 170 Summer st., was removed to the Symmes Hospital, where he is being treated for a fractured skull. The truck was being driven by Camille LeBlanc of 15 Cliff st., one of the contractors who had offered the use of their trucks for the collection.

Those who still wish to contribute clothing to be distributed to war victims in Europe are asked by Henry E. Keenan, Arlington chairman of the drive, to take their bundles to anyone of the depots listed in last week's NEWS, preferably to the Boston Edison Shop at 669 Massachusetts ave., not later than tomorrow evening. No more clothes will be shipped out of Arlington after tomorrow.

Horgan-Chabott

In a double ring ceremony at St. James Church Sunday afternoon, Miss Mary C. Chabott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Almeric J. Chabott of 28 School st., became the bride of Thomas J. Horgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Horgan of Malden, Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, DD, officiated.

Miss Phyllis Mitchell was maid of honor and William J. Horgan was best man.

The bride was gowned in white satin with a fingertip veil. She carried a bride's bouquet. Her maid of honor wore a blue satin gown with fingertip veil and a coronet of flowers. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet.

Joseph J. Barry was soloist with Miss Alice N. Barry at the organ.

The altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums and gladioli. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Legion hall, after which the couple left for New York. Upon their return, they will live in Arlington.

The bridegroom served in the South Pacific war theatre four years.

WHEN A STRIKE BECOMES REBELLION

The British government intends to assume ownership and management of all British coal mines during the next six months. One American newspaper describes the action as "Britain's most significant advance on the road to socialism during the first year of the Labor regime." Thus, the proposed seizure of strike-bound plants in this country takes on added significance.

In the comment that will arise over the elimination of coal as a private enterprise in England, the usual remarks will be heard that the men in the mines will never know the difference. True, the British coal miner will continue to get his pay, and for a time he may not be conscious of the change in his status. But eventually it will be borne home to him that he is an employee of government, in a land which is setting government up as a master instead of a servant.

The latter significant point should not be overlooked by those persons who continually point to government employees in this country as proof that merely working for government does not mean slavery. Our government is still the servant. As an employer, it is still a comparatively minor influence. However, add to its payroll every American coal miner, and the picture would become grimly different. Our government, too, would be well on the way to becoming a master.

What would happen under the new "labor" government in England if a John Lewis decided to break the coal mine operators unless his demands were met? What would happen if union organizers decided to take over management's job by enrolling foremen into the union, not hesitating to resort to strike violence to gain their objective. In England this would now be none other than rebellion. The violence would be against government rather than a recalcitrant private employer. It would be put down ruthlessly.

Fortunately in our country the coal industry remains in private hands. The miners can strike. They can exploit their grievances without being cast in the role of fighting against government. They can do this only so long as the independence of private industry is retained. Meanwhile, it is hoped that if government operation of meat-packing plants, and possibly the steel industry, it will be only a temporary measure. Obviously, immediate adjustment of labor and management's differences in the latter industry is imperative.

WHO DOES YOUR THINKING?

"Hold on" you are going to say. "I do my own thinking. No one tells me what to say!"

Perhaps that is true—but is it your head or your heart or your cussedness that dictates what you think?

We are no nation of regimented slaves. What restrictions we have placed upon us, what regulations we obey, we accept of our own free will. They are our laws, and we will obey, we accept of our own free will. They are our laws, and we will obey them because they are traffic signals at a dangerous curve in the road.

We are no nation of group thinkers—an American Europe, drawn each way by conflicting interests and hamstrung at every turn by barriers of age-old misunderstandings. We are free men who cooperate but who do not belong in groups. Under our democratic form of government we are free to determine our own thoughts, and that implies a personal responsibility as to what we let rule our thoughts—our head, our heart or our cussedness.

When our head rules, we can think calmly and dispassionately and determine what is the logical course to pursue for our own interest. When our heart rules, we follow our emotions, too often mistaking the will 'o'-the-wisp of fancy for the steady flame of idealism. When our cussedness rules, we obey our prejudices—prejudices based on lack of knowledge of our brothers' needs or motives.

Just as we need three branches of government to check the usurpation of power by any one, so we need to let the three—head, heart and cussedness—rule our thoughts.

Unquestionably we must first think with our heads, for we need clear and logical thought. We need to face and assimilate facts, to be realistic and practical in time of national tension. But we must also think with our hearts, that we may add the leaven of compassion to our thoughts, that we may have faith and hope and charity, that we may work in harmony with our fellow Americans because we think in harmony with them.

To these two we must add the spice of cussedness, turning it from personal prejudices against people to an active determination to fight a thing—an evil which seeks to divide and disrupt, to set religion against religion, race against race, class against class—an evil which seeks to control by destruction of that unity which is democracy.

Who does your thinking? You are but one—but as you and you and you think, so will the nation act. The responsibility is great—and it is up to you!

—RUTH TAYLOR.

The NEWS OBSERVES

The new lounge rooms for returned veterans, recently opened by Arlington post 1775, V.F.W., at 13 Medford st., are proving most popular. The rooms are open every evening from 7 until midnight and servicemen are cordially invited to make use of the facilities.

Gen. William J. Blake, manager of the Boston Regional Office of the Veterans Administration, has announced plans for opening contact offices in Cambridge, Holyoke, Malden, Newton, Quincy, Somerville and Waltham, and for itinerant contact service in Arlington and 31 other Massachusetts cities and towns.

This is in keeping with the V.A.'s policy of bringing its services to the veterans' home communities. The new offices will supplement contact service already established in Boston and other cities.

Dates of the opening of the various offices and expansion of the itinerant service will be announced later, as some delay has been encountered in obtaining adequate space, equipment and qualified personnel. Meanwhile the offices in Worcester, Springfield, Lowell and Lawrence are being enlarged to provide medical, dental and rehabilitation service.

Alice Quessy, 14, of 20 Higgins st., celebrated her 14th birthday Saturday by winning the New England figure skating championship in the Juvenile A Class at the Skating Club of Boston. Miss Quessy, also a clever baton twirler, is often seen leading the Legion band.

Hobbies Highlight Women's Meeting

Hobby Day was enjoyed at the January meeting of the Women's Missionary Guild of the Park Avenue Congregational Church. Mrs. Frank Parker presided and Mrs. Harph Smith had charge of the devotional service after which Mrs. William Boyd, program chairman, took over the meeting.

There were several collections of hobbies. Mrs. Patterson was the first to speak on her hat collection. Mrs. George Greenlaw's collection of glass figures came next. Miss Dorothy Nicoll's doll collection and Mrs. Boyd's elephant collection also proved most interesting.

A skit followed with Mrs. Harold Croft as narrator and Mrs. Irvin Davis and Mrs. Lawrence Kinney taking part.

A member, Georgiana Bordon, who sang the lead in Carmen at the Boston Opera House, closed the program with a group of three solos.

A social hour followed.

Junior Woman's Club

Monday evening's meeting of the Arlington Junior Woman's Club was held in the home of Mrs. William A. Muller, 231 Massachusetts ave.

The soloist was Mrs. Shute Miss Hazel D. Young, R. N., public health supervisor for the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, was the speaker. The club will hold a Record Hop Saturday, Feb. 2, at 8 p. m., at 231 Massachusetts ave.

Chaplain Lauds GI Courage, Warns Against Pampering

"It's a mistake to pamper our veterans now overseas, and the reason for the mass demonstrations, aside from subversive activities, which we have witnessed in recent weeks is that these boys have been pampered by our own government ever since the days of the C. C. C." Maj. John J. Dugan, Army chaplain and hero of the Bataan Death March, told an audience that filled the American Legion hall on Tuesday night.

The speaker continued, "It is up to us to help these boys come back sanely and soundly. If we do too much for them they'll never learn the trick of readjusting themselves."

As for those veterans who have already returned, the Army chaplain urged that everything possible be done to help rehabilitate the wounded and the sick, and that the boys who left school to enter the service be encouraged to continue their schooling. "The healthy returned veteran," he added, "must realize that he must get a job and assume responsibility. If he does, his future and that of his own country will be safeguarded."

Maj. Dugan recalled that in the days of the C. C. C., public opinion was so strong, the administration was afraid to put in military training in these youth camps. Yet, he added, 70 percent of military training is discipline and obedience, and not arms and ammunition. "One of the past administrations almost succeeded in doing away with the Marine Corps," he charged. "What would we have done without them on Guadalcanal, Guam, Saipan and Okinawa?"

"What happened on Bataan cannot be laid at the door of any one individual or administration. But, it was due to a long series of blunders during the past 25 years, and under our system of representative government, the ultimate blame is on the people who elect. The lesson, if we are smart, is to beware, sit up and take notice. Let us study leading questions that face the country today, that never again will any unit of our armed forces be found in the disgraceful condition that existed in the Philippines in December, 1941. One officer told me, he threw seven grenades, five of which were duds. Such was the material given by this rich nation."

Turning to the grim experiences which the American captives underwent in a Japanese prison camp in which some 40 died daily, Maj. Dugan said, "What you have read or heard, or even imagined of the treatment of prisoners of war by the Japs is not exaggerated. Every word published of the Death March is true."

Food, he said, was the main topic of conversations among the starving prisoners.

Recalling a midnight mass held on one Christmas eve in the prison camp, Maj. Dugan brought out that the 6000 men present, "literally beaten to the ground," thereby went back to the fundamental truth that when the going is tough, the human heart must seek its God.

Pulling no punches, the speaker reviewed his experiences and gave his conclusions on events since Pearl Harbor. He praised the courage, ingenuity and patriotism of the American soldier and denounced the apathy of the American people as a whole during the pre-war years.

He said in part: "The ultimate blame for our unpreparedness in the Philippines and elsewhere should be placed on the American people as a whole. They elected men to public office, and if these men failed to deliver honestly and truthfully, they should have removed them from office. For five or six years prior to the opening of hostilities, we saw cargo loads of scrap iron and gasoline being shipped to Japan. Yet, we were saying, 'We have a right to trade with whom we please.' We should have known better than to do this with a nation that for 30 years had its guns turned in our direction ready to take a crack at us. If we had read the history of Japan, we would have known that it aimed for war against us."

The chaplain gave a word description of the liberation of 511 prisoners in the camp in which he was held on Jan. 30, last year, "when literally, hell broke loose." The Rangers, who liberated the camp, took exactly 28 minutes from the time the first shot was fired until all 511 Americans were freed. Seventy-three Jap sentries and 11 officers were killed while the Rangers lost only two men and none of the prisoners was killed. This was followed by a 21-mile march for the prisoners, through Jap lines, until they finally reached the first large group of Americans.

Referring to the Yanks' ingenuity, Maj. Dugan related how, in the prison camp, Jap officers had powerful radios. When these broke down, they called for assistance from the Yanks. The American commanding officer detailed his best radio technician to repair the radios in the Jap officers' quarters. Somehow or other, the chaplain related, the Yanks returned to the stockade with a few spare radio parts. These, combined with equipment made from canteens, etc., provided radios which actually picked up news broadcasts.

Maj. Dugan, who spoke under the auspices of the Arlington Legion post, accepted an invitation to become a member of the post. Com. Laurence Kiehl announced at the close of the chaplain's talk.

TO APPEAR ON WMEX
Helen Daily, 11, of 120 Seituete st., a pupil of Miss Clara Carson, will appear in a piano solo over radio station WMEX next Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

A & P Executive Praises Work of Arlington Firemen

The efficient work of the Arlington firemen who fought the A & P super-market fire was praised by J. W. Kelly, vice-president of the New England Division of the food chain. In a letter written to Chief Daniel B. Tierney, Mr. Kelly said:

"After inspecting the results of the fire at 685 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington, this morning and noting the manner in which your men must have extinguished the fire, I cannot refrain from complimenting your organization. The damage was kept at an absolute minimum, which, in these days of food shortages is something to be thankful for."

"The manner in which Deputy Chief Corbett and Inspector of Wires Field conducted their investigations is also worthy of special comment."

"I talked with the President of our New England Division about this subject today. We would like you to accept the small check enclosed for whatever fund or purpose it may best serve to show our appreciation for the fine work you have done."

Four Audiences Hail "The Only Girl"

"The Only Girl," a musical play in three acts by Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom was presented by the Arlington Friends of the Drama, Jan. 16, 17, 18 and 19 at the Clubhouse under the direction of Edward W. Center.

Ever alert to experiment with something different, the Friends' departure from Gilbert and Sullivan opera for this season and the choice of "The Only Girl" for their fourteenth musical production proved to be a very happy event.

Had a laugh meter been installed in the clubhouse, the verdict of a very high score would have been recorded by the enthusiastic audiences viewing the play.

Although there were situations in the course of the action reminding one that this play with music was pre-World War I, nevertheless the very modern setting, attractive costumes, delightful ballet, plus the addition of several amusing innovations all set to the tunes of Victor Herbert made for a well balanced production and a very pleasant evening.

Adapted from Frank Mandel's farce, "Our Wives," the story of "The Only Girl" weaves itself around four fun-loving bachelor friends whose carefree lives are decidedly broken up by the marriage of three of them until finally the fourth bachelor succumbs to the charm of his musical collaborator.

The acting parts seemed to be evenly distributed among the four bachelor friends and the individual personality of each bachelor was very ably interpreted by Edward Miller, Jr., as "Kim"; Parker Wood as "Bunkie"; Thomas Roach as "Corksey" and Donald R. Sullivan as "Fresh".

On the distaff side, Ann Pickering as "Birdie" Helen Geary as "Jane" and Alberta Public as "Margaret" wisely chose the "let us be gay" attitude in their performances as the three wives to the ex-bachelors, and Ruth Olive, brisk and agreeable, as the musical collaborator finally brought the fourth bachelor to the altar.

George Alfred Pugh did a fine bit of character work as "Saunders", and Carol Wilkins as "Patsy"—leader of the chorines—gives much promise as a versatile performer.

The orchestra, made up of members of the Arlington Philharmonic Society, Inc., played the much loved Victor Herbert music in a light and easy manner throughout the play, adding much to the lively timing of the entire production.

Members of the orchestra included Violins, Leonard Wood, Don Costa, Bernadine Brooks, Mabel Wood, Norman MacNeil, Florence Seaver and Robert Tyron; viola, Dr. Frank Orne, cello, Virginia Brooks; bass, Archibald Rich; flutes, Priscilla Barry, Frances Finocchietti; clarinets, Harry Knight and Edward West; horn, John Solis; trumpet, Carl Pacifici, Jr.; percussion, Ernest Llewellyn; pianists, Dorothy Kimball, Carl Fowler and Gordon Gott.

Under the able direction of Helen S. Center as Dance Director, the chorus of six girls in their colorful costumes gave excellent rhythm and considerable personality in the chorus numbers, no easy accomplishment on a small stage.

Norma Elgee, Beatrice Cooke, Marjorie Munroe, Marcia Lovering, Nancy Godbold and Lorraine Clifford constituted the chorus.

Miriam H. Cahall assisted Mr. Center in the direction and Hazel M. Tate acted as prompter.

Babson Discusses 'Little Investors'

By Roger Babson

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 24.—For the first time in some years I find that the "big boys" of New York are bearish. They believe that stocks are too high and that the market has gone up too fast. This especially applies to those conservative bankers and brokers who are responsible for the funds of colleges, hospitals, trusts and large estates. They are mostly out of stocks and are very long of government bonds.

Will The "Big Boys" Be Fooled?
I also learn that many men have even sold stocks in their own companies believing that the prices are too high. They assume that the new purchasers of these stocks are speculators who will throw these stocks overboard when the next crash comes. The big boys then hope to buy these same stocks back again at 20 cents on the dollar as they have in the past. Now, will they be able to do so? Well, this question is the subject of this week's column.

Stock market conditions are certainly very different today than in 1929. The people have much more money; there are fewer securities to buy; banks are paying almost no interest on deposits; bonds yield very little; stocks are a good inflation hedge, and the S. E. C. is giving small investors real protection. As a result, most people are no longer buying stocks on margin or borrowed money; but are paying for their shares outright and putting them in safe deposit boxes.

Investors Unlike Those of '29
Experience shows that when stocks get into safe deposit boxes, it is hard to get them out. So long as stocks pay a dividend, investors forget prices paid or even fail to look at current prices. Even some of the big investment trusts now ignore market prices so long as dividends are paid. The "open end" trusts especially want a good income. This they can get only by holding stocks. Surely, small investors are much wiser today than they were in 1928-1929.

This change of ownership has great social and economic possibilities. It may mean that the control of American corporations is changing from the rich men of the country to ordinary people like you and me. Of course, the tax situation is helping bring about this change by penalizing the rich in favor of John Q. Public. If labor would get busy and quietly buy up shares of corporations, they could attain their goals far quicker than by their present silly strikes. This means we should not sell stocks for fear of labor troubles. Strikes merely delay prosperity; they do not destroy it.

In stead of yelling "Help the small businessman," if each of these little fellows would buy a few shares of stock in the big companies, they could easily control these companies which they now fear. Well, think this over also! Some day a powerful leader may arise who will get all these small investors together and throw out some of the present managements. They would need no legislation to do this. It is rumored that John L. Lewis has been pondering over this opportunity. One thing is certain. Before you or I sell stocks just because they are "high," we should carefully consider what we will do with our money when we do sell. Also, we should remember that it is purchasing power which we really want. Hence, idle bank accounts do not look too good. Let "little investors" consider this.

—Lt. Patricia Doherty, ANC, of 204 Spring Ave., is listed as returning to the States from Evacuation Hospital 112 in Germany.

Staff Sgt. LaVerne W. Anders of 47 Palmer street, has just returned from Manila after three years service in the Air Force.

World War II Veteran to Head D. A. V. Chapter

Howard W. Ford, a veteran of World War II, was installed as Commander of Chapter 49 Disabled American Veterans. The new Commander, a former Marine flyer from the 1st Marine Air Wing is the first veteran from World War II in this chapter to be elected to this high office.

Other officers include: Frank G. Baenester, World War II veteran from the Army Air Corp. Senior Vice-Commander; George H. Carlson, World War II veteran, U. S. Marine Corp. Junior Vice-Commander; Francis Casalo, World War II, U. S. Navy, Adjutant; Charles McConnell, World War II, U. S. Army, Chaplain; John T. Kerr, a retired Army officer from World War I, was installed as treasurer. Past State Commander Lawrence Curtis was installing officer in charge with Senior Vice-Commander Kencil Kendrickian, Massachusetts State Department presiding. National Committeeman Charles V. Gorman addressed the invited guests on the policies of the D.A.V. Guests who were speakers included Commander Lawrence Kiley Post 39 American Legion, Commander Clarence Marsh, Post 1775 Veterans of Foreign Wars, and John V. Colbert, Past Commander, State Department of the Disabled American Veterans.

Have You Done Your Part?

Arlington again is on the march! Under the direction of W. Dale Barker, public spirited citizens are bending every effort to make an impressive showing in the nationwide appeal for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. It's up to everyone to contribute.

Half of your contributions to the March of Dimes remain with your local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to be used for special equipment, hospitalization, transportation, and treatment and care of polio patients. The other half goes to the National Foundation for research, education and emergency aid during epidemics.

During the eight years of its existence the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which conducts the March of Dimes, January 14-31, has disbursed over $8,000,000 for research and education, and over $2,000,000 for emergency aid in epidemics. Your Dimes and Dollars make this aid possible.

Return Your March of Dimes Card Today!

The Last Call...

The Arlington Auxiliary Police has offered its wholehearted cooperation to the March of Dimes committee. Solicitors may call at your home. They carry credentials signed by W. Dale Barker, Arlington chairman; and Chief Archie F. Bullock. If you haven't already given, turn your contribution over to one of these Auxiliary Police solicitors.

It's Our Fight, Too...

Last year, no less than $8,791 was spent on Arlington polio cases alone by the Middlesex County Chapter. Civic pride demands that Arlington do its share to help lighten this load. No one knows where the dreaded disease will strike next.

Gist Addresses Woman's Club

Nathan Howard Gist was presented to the Arlington Woman's Club by Mrs. Joseph A. Keefe, chairman of the Legislative and Citizenship Training Committee, at its last meeting.

Speaking on "The Final Test of Democracy", Mr. Gist pointed to Massachusetts' outstanding record. He deplored the fact that although this is the wealthiest nation in the world, millions can neither read nor write. He pointed to the small percentage of money spent for education compared to the amount spent for crime prevention. Twenty-five million people in the country do not vote at all, he added.

He recommended fearless, independent thinking, tolerance and free enterprise; and "that we live for the community and not on it."

Mrs. Norman J. Griffin, president, presented several committee chairmen who spoke briefly.

Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield, first vice-president, presented Miss Nancy Trickey, soprano, who entertained with several selections.

The club voted to contribute to the Infantile Paralysis Fund and the War Service Fund.

"Joe" Barry provided delightful entertainment for the boys. Many of the boys telephoned the Red Cross to ask if he could not be sent to their particular ward.

Many boys asked when he would be back again. Boys who could walk or come along in wheel chairs followed the Arlington group from ward to ward so that they might hear "Joe" Barry.

Junior were: Miss Barbara Miller and Miss Anne Connor, both members of Arlington Unit; Misses Eileen Kelley and Therese Bradley and two other young ladies, who assisted in distributing gifts to the boys. Several attractive baskets decorated in crepe paper of red-white-and blue contained cellophane bags tied in red ribbon, contents being a package of cigarettes, a candy bar and other prizes of either pocket combs, toilet articles, stationery or games.
